
Seminar Series “Digital History in/of Central Asia and the South Caucasus”

We are excited to launch a new series of seminars focused on the digital history of Central Asia and the South Caucasus. The seminars will begin in February 2026 and be held once a month (typically on the second Thursday), starting at 14:00 CET/CEST and conducted online in English.

The series will feature experts from the region, as well as specialists from Germany and Europe who are engaged in the study history and culture of Central Asia the South Caucasus. The seminars will address both specific research projects and initiatives related to digital transformation in the field, as well as broader methodological, institutional, and infrastructural questions.

This series is jointly organized by Max Weber Stiftung Georgia Branch Office and the Chair of Modern and Eastern European History at Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg (FAU). The seminars are led by PD Dr. Moritz Florin and Dr. Dinara Gagarina.

This series continues and expands the discussions of the previous seminar series on the digital history of Central Asia, organized by FAU and the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Osteuropakunde (DGO).
