

Study DH @UniBe

STARTING IN SPRING 2026

Bridge humanities, culture and code.

Study Digital Humanities at the University of Bern. We unite humanities research with digital practice. Students work hands-on with GLAM institutions, data labs, and interdisciplinary projects, gaining experience in data curation and manipulation, publishing, and project management. The applied approach is supported by strong theoretical training in critical algorithm studies and media studies.

Special Qualifications:

- Digital Scholarly Editing & Computational Literary Sciences
- Digital Sociolinguistics
- Digital Histories
- Digital Culture Studies
- Data Science
